

FEEL ALL USED UP?

Lots of Barre People Do

Does your back ache constantly? Do you have sharp twinges when stooping or lifting? Feel all used up—as if you could just go no further? Why not look to your kidneys? Why not use Doan's Kidney Pills? Read the statement of this nearby resident:

Mrs. Hattie F. Dodge, West Topsham, Vt., says: "When I got up in the morning, it seemed as if my back would break. It felt as if a rope was wound tight across my kidneys, causing almost unbearable pain. I couldn't rest comfortably in any position, and I got up in the morning feeling worn-out. Doan's Kidney Pills acted directly on my kidneys and soon made them normal."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Dodge had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.

WATERBURY

Self-Registering Baseball Target Game Patented By Rev. W. L. Boicourt.

For a number of weeks the boys of the community as well as older ones, have been much interested in throwing the ball or shooting the arrow at the self-registering baseball target invented by Rev. William L. Boicourt, scoutmaster of troop 1. One in the social room at the Congregational church, one at camp and another at the Waterbury inn have given many a chance to try their skill and enjoy the sport. The game is now patented, Mr. Boicourt having recently received the papers. The thrown ball hits a fabric facing over a cushion impregnated with talcum powder, which, of course, comes from the local talc mine. This leaves a mark which shows the spot hit but which can be easily erased. It is adapted not only for the home but in camps, gymnasiums, one already being placed in the high school gymnasium in Bridgeport, Conn., in which Justin Ricker is interested. It also offers a new kind of athletic contests for scout troops as well as campfire girls and other organizations. The possibilities of the game are many and grew largely from Mr. Boicourt's knowledge of the needs for scout work. It seems quite certain that the interest will grow as the knowledge of the game becomes known.

WILLIAMSTOWN.

An Interview with the Defendant in the Breach of Promise Case.

So much public interest has been excited over the coming trial before Judge Briggs in grand hall on Monday evening next, that one of our reporters counted himself fortunate when he found an opportunity to interview the defendant.

Mr. Martin was found at his home and though he assumed a gay and careless air, one could see by the deep circles under his eyes and the quick, nervous glances which he cast about, that he was suffering from some strong passion which was racking his soul to pieces. Whether it was remorse or whether the heart-broken sense of wrong and persecution that comes to the falsely accused, can never be known. Now and again the forced smile would fade from his face and a look which suggested despair would take its place.

"I am convinced," said he, "that this is a base conspiracy gotten up by well-known parties for the purpose of injuring my reputation, and I am happy to say that my friends feel as I do and will be out in large numbers at the trial for the purpose of seeing me vindicated. Furthermore, this will not be a one-sided affair by any means, for I have a surprise in store for the plaintiff and her attorney and witnesses."

Mr. Martin states that he continues to eat his regular nine meals a day and occasionally finds time for a light lunch between. "I shall go to my trial," said Mr. Martin, "with the proud sense that my record can be laid before the world without a blush on my part and with the knowledge that the innocent cannot suffer wrong and persecution without bringing harm to his accusers."

All the facts in regard to this remarkable case will be fully developed at the great mock court trial under the auspices of the Village Improvement society. Do not forget to be there early, if possible, as court will open promptly at 8 o'clock.—adv.
